German bombs and English cannonballs - twice during its proud history the port of Plymouth has resolutely stood firm as the horror of war rained down upon its streets. The World War II Blitz has been well documented, however the same cannot be said of the city's siege, 300 years earlier, during the English Civil War - until now!

Hidden Plymouth: The Forgotten Land of Plymouth's Civil War

Plymouth colony was founded by the Plymouth Company during the Great Puritan Migration. The Plymouth Company was a joint stock company founded in 1606 by King James I with the goal of establishing settlements along the east coast of North America.

History of Plymouth Colony

While the original purpose of the Plymouth was to serve the lower end of a booming automobile market, during the Great Depression of the 1930s, the division helped significantly in ensuring the survival of the Chrysler Corporation when many other car companies failed. Beginning in 1930, Plymouths were sold by all three Chrysler divisions (Chrysler, DeSoto, and Dodge).

Although successful, the Acclaim became obscured and forgotten soon after its discontinuation. It was never a fun car to begin with – just a plain 4-door sedan, ideal as a family or fleet car. Unlike the Dodge Spirit, which also came in a sporty turbocharged R/T version, the Plymouth Acclaim never exhibited such aspirations.
